About

Jim Owen is a Managing Director at BaseRock Partners, where he provides investment banking and capital markets advisory services to engineering, construction, and industrial/infrastructure services firms.

With more than 25 years of industry experience, Jim has executed a wide range of transactions for public, private and financial sponsor-owned clients.

Before joining BaseRock, Jim led the Infrastructure & Industrial Services group at Stout Capital, where he advised clients on sell-side, buy-side, and capital raise transactions. Prior to that, he co-founded Alpine Lake Capital Partners, an investment firm focused on acquiring mid-market companies in the industrial services space.

Earlier in his career, Jim held senior positions with Houlihan Lokey and Harris Bank/ BMO in those firms' Engineering & Construction groups.
